Module One: Introduction

Welcome to the TEFL Academy 100-Hour Online Course

This Teaching English as a Foreign Language course is for prospective EFL teachers who have completed some classroom based teacher training. The course is designed to offer practical advice for the classroom teacher to enhance and develop the skills and approaches introduced in the 20-Hour face to face training session.

The course covers a range of approaches to English language teaching and learning: offering sample lessons and exercises, advice on lesson planning and placement testing, working with course books and schemes of work, classroom management and developing resources and materials and advice on working abroad. In short, the course aims to provide a ‘toolkit’ for teachers embarking on a new career in EFL.

Understandably, you probably have lots of questions about how the course is administered and so the aim of this first module is to give an overview of the course and provide answers to those questions. With this in mind we have compiled an FAQ (Frequently Asked Questions) in the hope of providing reassurance concerning any niggling concerns or queries you may have about the course in general. It is important to us that our trainee EFL teachers feel confident approaching the course from the start and so we advise you to read the FAQ before beginning the course. If there is anything that we haven’t covered in the FAQ, please feel free to contact our dedicated team of course administrators: 0800 689 9190.
